A Value Chain is as Strong as its Weakest Link

Industrial companies' reliance on suppliers, vendors, distributors and other third parties increases their business' risk exposure.

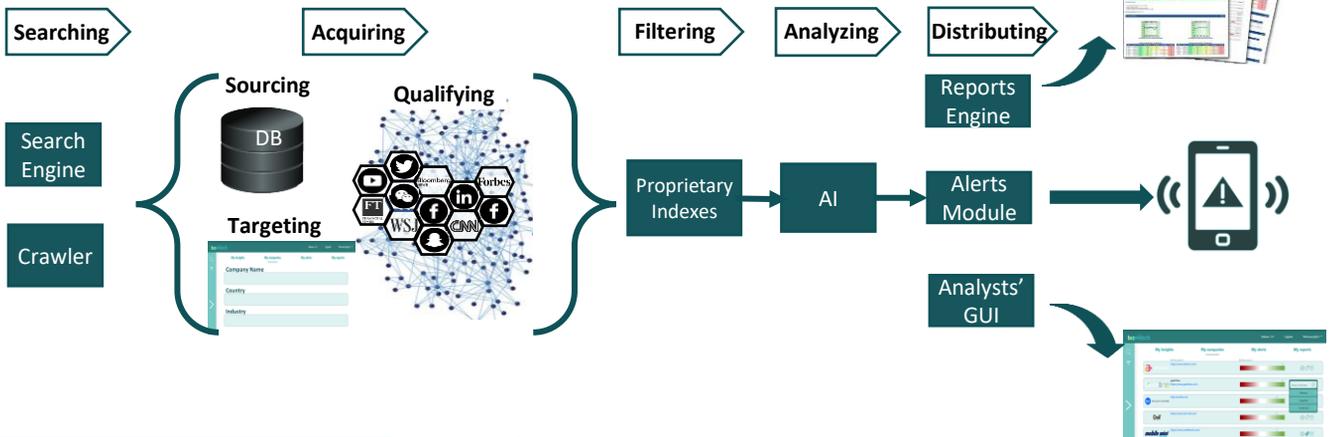

Any financial, operational, legal, environmental, reputational or security issue at a related third party might reflect on the business' performance and image.

Current solutions are mostly based on static information, including the third parties' financial reports, compliance statements and voluntary updates.

Our solution

We increase our customers' business resilience by assisting a better selection of their suppliers and by providing updated insights about their suppliers and other third parties

- ✔ Updated information, indicating status, changes and trends since the last time a third party had updated its on-boarding data
- ✔ Complementary Information, on top of standard due-diligence or on-boarding packages, addressing issues that might expose our customers to various risks, including financial, operational, legal, social, environmental and reputational concerns.
- ✔ We cover both Business Entities and the Major Stakeholders: owners, officers, key employees
